

GREAT INTEREST IN BIG CONVENTION

Paducah Business Men Will Attend Memphis Meeting.

Mr. S. A. Fowler Is Appointed Delegate From the Ohio Valley Improvement Association.

THE PRESIDENT WILL BE THERE

Local river and business men are very much interested in the deep waterways convention which will be held at Memphis October 2nd, 4th and 5th, and which President Roosevelt will address during his visit to Memphis. The meeting promises to be an epochal one, and fruitful of good results. Mr. Saunders A. Fowler had a letter today from J. F. Ellison, secretary of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, notifying him of his appointment as a delegate from that body to attend, and suggesting the importance of his doing so. While primarily and properly so, this meeting is called the Lakes-to-the-Gulf project. It is the opinion of close students of the question of waterways improvements, particularly as they apply to western rivers, that due to the president's attendance, the Ohio interests should be well and strongly represented.

Mr. Fowler, Mr. H. A. Hennberger, Mr. D. W. Coons and Mr. H. C. Rhodes and Capt. Jas. Koger will attend from Paducah.

The Ohio Valley Meeting.

The Ohio Valley Improvement Association meeting will be held in Wheeling, W. Va., this year, some time in October, the date to be announced after the meeting at Memphis. The Ohio Valley Association is the first association to take up the scheme of improving the western rivers and is the originator of the nine foot stage from Pittsburgh to Cairo. The association has done good work in interesting congress in its plans. When it first went to work, scoffers said it would never amount to anything; that its plan was a dream of a visionary, but by consistent, persistent efforts congress was interested a little, at first, and has been more and more each year until it seems almost a certainty that the association will ultimately get what it wants, $70,000,000 to do the required work. The surveys have all been made, and much of the work ordered, but the association hopes to get a bill through congress next year authorizing a continuous contract to complete the whole scheme. It would take six years to do so.

It is not generally known that a contract was let two years ago to Oscar Barrett, of Pittsburgh, to construct a dike at Ogden's, which is a part of the general plan. The work has never been started because the water has never been low enough, but when it is completed it will eliminate the possibility of an unnavigable stage between here and Cairo for all time. The cost of the dike is estimated at from $60,000 to $70,000.

Labor Papers Consolidate.

James D. Wood, publisher of the "Farmers and Miners Advocate", at Central City, and Claude Johnson, editor of "Journal of Labor," this city, have consolidated and will publish one paper hereafter at Paducah, the name of which will be "The Miners and Farmers Advocate and Journal of Labor Consolidated." Both publications have large circulations, and a branch office will be maintained at Central City.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE

Already an Average of Five New Pupils to Room.

Many Will Enter Schools Next Week—Scholars Take Up Work With Enthusiasm.

COUNTY SCHOOLS DOING NICELY.

Enrollment in Paducah public schools this year averages five more pupils to each room over last year's enrollment at the beginning of the first session. Pupils do not all enter the first week, and additions will be made from day to day for a period lasting over several weeks. For this reason no definite figures can be gotten of the total enrollment as compared with that of 1906. Superintendent Carnagey has been busy issuing entrance cards, and is surprised at the number of new additions, pupils who have moved to Paducah during vacation.

"Yes, we look for an excellent year," stated Superintendent Carnagey. "Pupils exhibit a great interest in the work even this early in the session, when they have not gotten fairly settled. The features of school work we desire to impress have been well taken and we expect to arouse an interest in school work that will bring beneficial results not heretofore secured."

The Enrollment.

Following is the enrollment for the first day, in each building:

Washington	877
Lee	295
Longfellow	160
Jefferson	280
Franklin	240
McKinley	203

County Schools Flourishing.

County School Superintendent S. J. Billington reports all county schools in session except three. They are the Knott school, district 42; Lee school, district 36 and Little Union school, district 32. The former and latter schools will start next month, but no tutor has been secured for the Lee school.

Attendance in county school is reported excellent, and the enrollment is a little larger than last year. One attractive feature of school work this year in the Shady Grove school, district 25, is the attendance of German children, immigrants to this country. Several can not speak English, but are making wonderful progress. Many citizens of Paducah have been out to hear them recite and sing, and were astonished at the quickness with which they pick up the language and ways of their new country.

Superintendent Billington this year expects to hold trustee elections in each of the 42 school districts, something never before accomplished. He is sending out blanks today urging that elections be held. Heretofore only half the country trustees were elected, the duty of appointment to vacancies falling to the superintendent.

Colored Schools.

In the colored schools the same percentage of enrollment is reported as the increase in white scholars. Following are figures:

Garfield school	333
Lincoln	356

VANDALISM GROWS BOLDER IN PADUCAH

False Fire Alarms Turned on in Daylight—Petty Thievery.

Vandalism in Paducah is growing bolder and bolder, and policemen are at their wits' end to devise a means of bringing those guilty to justice. Bicycles have been wilfully taken and ridden until wrecked, and then thrown into some ditch for the owner to discover. Dwelling houses have been entered and chandeliers wrecked, milk pitchers have been robbed and every class of petit theft reported.

This morning at 8:30 o'clock a fire alarm box, No. 15, at Fifth and Broadway, was "pulled" in open daylight, yet Chief Wood has been unable to secure the least scintilla of evidence as to who is responsible for the false alarm. The alarm came in twice and when No. 1 and 4 companies arrived, was standing open, a crowd clustered about it, waiting expectantly for fire companies to arrive and discover the fire. No one seemed to know who pulled it. No. 3 company filed No. 1 station while the latter company made the run.

"There is a penalty attached to the pulling of a false alarm intentionally," declared Chief Wood, "and we will prosecute anyone we learn guilty of such an act."

CHECK WAS ON PRINCETON BANK

Mr. G. H. Husbands, formerly master commissioner of McCracken circuit court, sold a piece of property to a negro woman yesterday and after leading himself a merry chase about the city, found that the joke was on himself.

The woman wrote him a check for $150, first payment on the lot. He took it to "the First National bank," an institution in which the woman said she had money. No one knew her at the bank, and one after another all banks were tried, but still with no satisfactory results.

"Look here," Mr. Husbands stated, "you gave me a worthless check for that property, and I am not going to turn the deed over to you. You had better be careful in the future or you might get into serious trouble."

"Look here, mister Husbands," the real estate purchaser remonstrated, "I've not done you no harm. Dat check am on de first national bank at Princeton, Ky.," and sure enough it was. The woman thought probably that the Princeton First National bank was the only one in existence. Princeton is her home.

Attorney John C. Gates, of Princeton, was in the city today.

THE WEATHER.

Kentucky—Rain and cooler Tuesday; fair Wednesday.

RIVALRY IS ENDED BETWEEN TWO CLASSES

'08 and '09 Pennants Now Hang Side by Side in Auditorium.

Superintendent Carnagey essayed the role of peacemaker at the high school today in an effort to end the rivalry between the classes of 1908 and 1909 for the honor of flying their pennants from the flagstaff. He assembled the classes and gave them some good advice.

"Let us stand together for the Paducah High school and not for an '09 nor an '08 class," he said. "Let us float a P. H. S. pennant and not an individual class pennant." So it was agreed that the school's colors, blue and white pennant, with the high school monogram be swung from the cupola and the '08 and '09 pennants be placed side by side in the auditorium.

The superintendent congratulated the boys on the compromise, and told them he would stand by them at any time they were in the right. "If you want to organize a football, baseball, or any other sort of athletic team I shall co-operate with you heartily." The meeting broke up with every boy in a good humor and imbued with the right spirit. Formation of the football team will be taken up at once, as the school is determined to sustain the great reputation its team achieved last season.

J. S. ROSS ON STUMP FOR DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Attorney J. S. Ross will next week take the stump in the interest of the Democratic party, speaking at Wickliffe Monday. He received instructions yesterday afternoon from the state campaign committee. Attorney Ross is one of the best speakers among the young attorneys in this end of the state.

WOLF GETS CONTRACT FOR SILVER SERVICE

A contract for a twenty-seven piece silver service set, 24 cups, one ladle, one punch bowl and one tray, for $1,390 was awarded to Jeweler Joe Wolf by a committee selected from the council and aldermanic boards yesterday afternoon. The committee was composed of Mayor Yeiser, Alderman C. H. Chamblin and Councilman Ernest Lackey. Designs were submitted by Messrs. Wolff, Nagel & Meyer, J. L. Warner and Warren & Warren, city; Mermod and Jaccard, St. Louis, and the Duhme Jewelry company of St. Louis. Several designs were thrown out because they exceeded the limit set by the council. A two hour session in the morning brought no results, and at 2 o'clock the committee met again to deliberate until late in the afternoon before deciding on a design. On the bowl or tray and ladle a picture of the gunboat Paducah will be engraved, this being stipulated in the contract.

COOL WEATHER BRINGS OUT HEAVY CLOTHING

This morning residents of Paducah awakened to a cold atmosphere. Many were forced to rise before day-break and secure additional cover, and several light cloaks and overcoats were conspicuous on the streets in early morning. The misty drizzle which fell early this morning added to the chill, and many fires were burning. Railroad men came in from runs with bright fires in their caboose stoves, and smoke could be seen from many residence chimneys.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF MAYFIELD MAN.

Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 10.—It certainly was a miraculous escape that Attorney J. P. Evers had Saturday night about 11 o'clock when he fell down the elevator opening from the third story of the Southern hotel building. Mr. Evers strange to say never suffered any broken bones and was only painfully bruised on the hip. He will be able to be up in a few days.

Change in Saddlery Firm.

The firm members of the Paducah Harness and Saddlery company at 204 Kentucky avenue today dissolved partnership. Mr. John Blith purchased the interests of Wm. H. Pieper and John Deeg and will continue the business.

Mr. Pieper will have charge of the bankrupt Rehkopf stock until it is all sold.

DR. MURRELL SUES FOR $8,000 DAMAGES

Capt. J. N. White the Only Defendant Named.

Claims That Owner of Burned Building Was Negligent in Allowing Walls To Stand.

WILL BE INTERESTING CASE.

Suit was filed this morning in circuit court by Attorneys Wheeler, Hughes & Berry for Dr. D. G. Murrell, against Captain James N. White, of Nashville, owner of the Scott-Henneberger building which was gutted by fire several weeks ago, and which caused the wrecking of the American Express company building, owned by the plaintiff.

Dr. Murrell alleges that after the fire Captain White let his shell of a building remain as it stood without removing dangerous walls, and eliminating danger to adjacent property. He alleges that, due to the carelessness of Captain White in failing to tear down the walls, his building was wrecked by wind blowing the frail walls over on his building. He asks for $7,000, value of the building and for $1,000 in rents which he will be deprived of by reason of the wrecking of the building.

ORDER PERSONAL PROPERTY OF FURNITURE COMPANY SOLD

Referee in Bankruptcy E. W. Bagby this morning issued an order authorizing a private sale of personal property in the bankrupt matter of the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing company. He also allowed several fee claims.

Referee Bagby, authorized Trustee John Rock to sell at private sale all personal property, such as furniture on hand, lumber in the rough, wagons, etc. As to the mill property he left the question open until tomorrow. A petition has been filed asking for private sale of the entire property, good bids having been secured for it.

Attorneys Crice and Ross were allowed a fee of $750 for filing the petition resulting in declaring the firm a bankrupt. John Rock was allowed $150 as fee for trustee.

Buggy Overturns With Officers.

Patrolman James Clark and Constable A. C. Shelton while serving summons on witnesses near Tyler, were last night overturned in their buggy and spilled out. Patrolman Clark falling on Constable A. C. COMPLETE IMMUNITY INSURED TAYLOR

Judge Stout Makes Order Suspending Warrant.

May Now Safely Go to Georgetown to Testify in Powers Trial and Return to Indiana.

FRANKLIN MAKES STATEMENT.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 10.—Former Governor W. S. Taylor can now return to Kentucky unmolested by any peace officer. In the Franklin circuit court this morning, Judge R. L. Stout entered an order suspending the warrant against him on the indictment charging him with complicity in the Goebel murder. This insures him complete immunity to come to Georgetown and testify in Powers' case and return to Indiana. Judge Stout entered this order following a statement by Prosecutor Franklin in which he said he desired to allow Caleb Powers the full benefit of Taylor's testimony.

CONTRACT FOR SKATING RINK WILL BE LET TONIGHT.

Modified plans for the skating rink that the company headed by Mr. C. W. Thompson will build at Tenth and Jefferson, have been completed and the contract will be let tonight. The new plans are similar to the original ones except that they provide for more skating surface. The building is to be 80x225 feet and have a skating area of 15,000 feet. It is hoped to have work started this week, and the structure completed in two months. It will cost approximately $10,000.

MOLDERS WHO STRUCK FOR BEER GO TO WORK.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 10.—The 250 molders of the city who went out on a strike last week because their beer at lunch hour was cut off will return to work Tuesday, upon the advice of National President Valentine of Cincinnati, who is here.

PROMINENT MEN AT POSTMASTER'S MEETING

The state convention of the first, second and third class postmasters of Kentucky will be held in Louisville on the 18th and 19th of this month, and west Kentucky postmasters are arranging to attend. Some very prominent men have promised to attend, which should make the meeting memorable. Among them are First Assistant Postmaster General F. H. Hitchcock, Chief Postoffice Inspector W. J. Vickery, Chief Division Superintendent R. P. Covert and the postmaster general's private secretary, Dr. J. A. Holmes. A. L. Lawlee, third assistant postmaster general, has also indicated a desire to attend. The fourth class postmasters will convene on the 17th and 18th, so it has been arranged to consolidate the meetings on the 18th.

Paducah Leading Tobacco Market In Western Kentucky District.

At Paducah more tobacco was sold by the Dark Tobacco Growers' association than any other sales station in this district. Only a few more sales are to be held in the dark patch, and when all reports are in by next week, Paducah's stand will be known. It is thought she will lead not only in this district, but also in the entire patch in prices, if not in number of hogheads sold.

This morning Mr. Gus Veal, local salesman for the association, went to Calvert City to arrange for a big rally for the purpose of effecting a more solid organization. Speakings are being arranged in Marshall county for Gilbertsville, Birmingham, Grand Rivers, Calvert City and other cities in Marshall. Barbeques will be features, and it is expected to organize the entire county solid. In McCracken on Thursday at Massac, a big speaking will be heard at a monster barbecue given in the interest of the dark tobacco association. Speakers are Captain W. J. Stone, of Kuttawa, and Mr. John Allen, of Montgomery county, Tenn.

Paducah beat Mayfield sales by 2,500 hogheads this season. Tobacco was brought here from Fulton. It is conceded that Paducah offers better buyers.

Revenge Motive of Ouster Suit; Would Not Benefit Boyle's Case.

"No, I am not yet preparing to vacate," said Mayor Yeiser today when a Sun representative called and found him busy arranging some books and papers in his office. "My friend Hal Corbett has not yet ousted me, so I shall stay on the job for a few days longer."

The mayor is not worrying over Attorney Corbett's threat to institute ouster proceedings to remove him from office, nor are any of his friends and advisers. He had a string of callers all morning and every one was interested in the new incident the Boyle case has brought out. Everyone, of course, agrees that a spirit of revenge for the mayor's activity in prosecuting the case inspired the threatened suit, and it is the general opinion that Boyle has hurt his case, and the whisky business in general, in letting his attorneys display such rash judgment.

"I have had men who are opposed to prohibition come to me today and say that if this is the way the whisky men intend to wage a fight we shall certainly line up for a dry town," said Mayor Yeiser, commenting on this phase of the matter, "and I don't believe the law-abiding saloon keepers endorse such a course."

No one believes the mayor can be ousted, as the matter was threshed out several years ago when he was charged with illegal registration on account of residing in the country, yet nearly every member of the general council said today that in the event the mayor was removed they would vote to elect him again, as they all endorse his action. Such Republican leaders as Alderman Palmer gave him that assurance today.

Attorney Corbett has not yet filed the suit, but his friends say he is in earnest in the matter and will do so. He told Mayor Yeiser yesterday that while he regretted to take such a step, on account of his friendship for his honor, still in justice to his client he would do so. Attorneys interviewed today merely laughed at the idea, and no one seemed to think the suit would amount to anything.

Stingless Bees a New Importation

Washington, Sept. 10.—Stingless bees are among the department of agriculture's latest introductions, and it is not beyond the possibilities that hives of the busy workers may be kept soon on the front porch of every household, urban or rural throughout the country, supplying sweets and pointing the rising generations to home industry.

The new introduction, which comes from Asia Minor, is known as the Caucasian bee. The name is derived from its native locality, and is emphasized by habits of life which rank this honey-maker distinctly as the white maple bee. It is civilized, dignified and high-toned. It rushes with reluctance into anything that smacks of warfare, having, in place of the belligerent instincts of others of its class, a predisposition to arbitration.

It must not be inferred that the Caucasian has no sting at all, as has been erroneously stated. It is constituted much as are other bees, but its weapon is sheathed in peace and used only in cases of extreme emergency. It has been domesticated for many centuries and cut off from the commoner breeds that naturally make money, brigand-like, in some mountain cave or tree.

There is a stingless bee with which it is a great injustice to associate the Caucasian. This weaponless breed is a Latin-American and is thoroughly imbued with the characteristics that are common to the many residents of equatorial zones of this continent. It has a strong indisposition to work, and when temporary fits of industry seize it its labors are done in a half-hearted sort of way and without plan or system. It will follow no architectural plan in storing honey, such as has been developed among the races that have labored for centuries under the influence of men who were builders of pyramids and hanging gardens.

Professionals Scorn Them. Professional beekeepers scorn the idea of a stingless bee and are desirous of going no further toward non-combativeness than the Caucasian. The trained handler of bees may walk in safety where the boldest thief would fear to tread, and as a result may leave stores of honey of great value in his hives in lonesome country places with no fear of loss. The beekeeper walks softly, moves slowly and never jars upon the delicate sensibilities of his wards. An amateur at the same task would jar a hive or strike at a bee buzzing close by and call the whole apriary down upon him. The trained keeper, indeed, receives many a painful wound in his work, which will be avoided when the Caucasian becomes the stock generally used.

Caucasian Can Sting. The Caucasian will sting when the irritating influence is sufficient. It would not tolerate the intrusion of an amateur nor suffer the debasing slaughter of its kind, but it is nevertheless an exceedingly mild tempered bee.

Appliances on the tops of high office buildings have become not unusual of late years in many of the great cities. There are such colonies in New York and in Washington. They flourish, and rarely is the populace annoyed by the busy workers. While the bee may have to go further for its honey from hives so placed, it gains in that it is not forced to make its spiral ascension when striking a field from a hive located on the ground.

BRITT OUTMATCHED; GANS IS CHAMPION

Britt's Wrist Broken in Fourth Round.

Battle for Lightweight Championship at 'Frisco Witnessed by Fourteen Thousand People.

WAS GENUINE SLUGGING MATCH.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—A left swing to the body, cleverly blocked by Joe Gans, cost Jimmy Britt any chance he might have had to win the lightweight championship of the world, and brought to a close five rounds of fast fighting witnessed by a crowd of 14,000 at Recreation park. The blow caught by Gans on his elbow was struck in the middle of the fourth round. It broke Britt's wrist and though he went on again in the fifth round he was helpless both on the offense and defense. It was not until this round that he informed his seconds of the mishap.

"What's the use of my going on? I can't fight. I am helpless," he said to Liv. Krelling, and Captain of Police Gleason was notified at the ring side and stopped the fight. Referee Walsh gave the decision to Gans. The fight was a slugging match while it lasted, but it was evident that Britt had no chance to win from the negro. For the first time in his life he was outmatched. Britt's lack of coolness was partly responsible for the miserable ending of the fight. Doctors said the ulna bone was broken and their decision silenced any claim of a "fake."

STRENGTHENING OF RATE LAWS

May be Recommended in Message to Coming Congress.

President Deeply Interested in Subject and Trip Down Mississippi Will Stimulate Interest.

EXPERTS PREPARING FIGURES.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Dissatisfied with the working of the railroad rate law, President Roosevelt is said to have embodied in his message to the Sixtieth congress recommendations for strengthening that statute. The interstate commerce commission is almost buried in work as a result of the measure, which is said not to afford the relief the administration and the American people expected. Now the believers in lower transportation tolls as a guarantee of a greater flow of tariff are casting around for some means of stimulating trade.

Just at this time, when experts are very much at sea, Major Riche, of the army engineer corps, has supplied some figures that have shed a new light on the subject. Major Riche's report to the war department is lengthy, but the meat of his argument is to be found in a short table of comparative figures that, although extremely brief in itself, contains volumes of inspiration.

This table makes comparison between the rates from St. Louis to St. Paul, 573 miles by rail and 129 miles by river, and from St. Louis to Oklahoma City, 543 miles by rail with no waterway competition. The table of rates follows:

Class	1	2	3	4	5
Rail	$.63	$.52 1/4	$.42	$.26	$.21
River	.40	.34	.42	.17	.14
Ok. Cy	1.39	1.09	.97	.84	.67

Major Riche, who has charge of the improvement work on the upper Mississippi river, has unwittingly endorsed the chief contention of the national rivers and harbors congress that developed rivers and harbors will do more to solve the rate problem than all the laws enacted by the federal or state legislatures. The organization has kept constantly before the American people and their representatives at the national capital the necessity of expending not less than $50,000,000 a year on these improvements. Capt. J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, its secretary and treasurer, is preparing for the next national convention to be held here in December, by striving to increase the membership until it shall embrace every shipper and every commercial community in the United States.

In presenting his figures, Major Riche devotes a little space to pointing out the discrepancy in rates between points at the mercy of the railroads and those within reasonable distance of navigable streams.

There is little doubt that the appropriation for rivers and harbors by the next congress will establish a record. President Roosevelt is deeply interested in the subject and is to take a trip down the Father of Waters the latter part of this month, ending his voyage at Memphis, where he is expected to make a powerful speech at the deep waterway convention. This, beyond question, will stimulate the growing interest in the

SOLDIERS STORM JAIL.

Attack Jail to Free Comrade, but Are Frightened by Shots.

Junction City, Kan., Sept. 10.—A mob of nearly fifty soldiers of the Farmers' school at Fort Riley came here about 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose of releasing a comrade who was confined in the county jail. The sheriff and city police force were notified of their coming and from positions in windows above the jail opened a fire that quickly dispersed the mob as it sought to force an entrance. The authorities at Fort Riley placed guards at the jail and are aiding in the effort to find the members of the mob. Two arrests have been made. No one was shot.

WE now call your attention to our Ready-to-Wear Department for Fall business. This department in our store has grown from year to year, due to the fact that we have handled only garments of quality, fit and style—those that give satisfaction in every respect and priced as low as legitimate merchandising will allow for first selling. For this Fall, recognizing the fact that each year there appears a greater demand for Ladies' Tailored Garments, we have prepared to show the greatest line of garments that we have ever brought out, a range of styles and prices which will have no superior and few equals—garments to suit all tastes. Each day new arrivals are coming in and the tasteful as well as the economical woman is invited to call. We solicit your attention to a few special offerings:

WIRELESS PHONES WILL LINK FLEET

Ships of Big Fleet Will be in Verbal Touch.

New System Is To Be Given a Severe Test On a Long Cruise.

OPERATIVE IN ALL WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 10.—For the first time in the history of any navy, the fighting craft of the great fleet that is to sweep around Cape Horn and into the calm waters of the Pacific Ocean will be in verbal communication with each other. The wireless telephone is to be the medium linking each ship to its sisters. As Admiral "Fighting Bob" Evans is known to have a penchant for forceful language, it is probable that the squadron will leave in its wake a chain of verbal "d—s" reaching from Rockland, Me., to the peaceful portals of the Golden Gate.

It came as a surprise this week when announcement was made that the navy department had determined on "trying out" wireless telephony on the long cruise. Outsiders have been led to believe that verbal communication without the use of wires was a wonder still far off in the future. But Dr. N. Monroe Hopkins, chief electrician of the navy and professor of chemistry in the George Washington university, has been quietly investigating the subject and watching every experiment made in the new field of electricity.

As a result of Dr. Hopkins' work, apparatus is to be installed at once on the battleships Connecticut and Virginia. It will be given the most severe tests and if it answers requirements every ship in the big fleet is to be equipped. The wireless telephone is to be used as an auxiliary to the wireless telegraph, with which every vessel in the Atlantic fleet is supplied. It will supplement the telegraph, not supplant it.

It is claimed for the wireless telephone that it can be operated perfectly in the worst weather at a distance of five miles, and, under favorable conditions, over much greater stretches. Technical descriptions of the apparatus have not yet been given out by the navy department, but it is said to be comparatively simple in construction and not likely to get out of order. Indeed, this is put forward as one of its principal recommendations.

Among those who have taken an absorbing interest in the development of the wireless 'phone is Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone bearing his name. Particularly enough, Mr. Bell is connected with the same university with which Dr. Hopkins is associated as a member of the faculty. For some years he has been a trustee of the George Washington university, and has frequently advised such of the students as have evinced interest along electrical lines.

In this connection the government is strongly represented on the faculty of the local university. Scientists and experts from nearly every branch of the government service are devoting some of their time to directing the work of the students, and the institution of learning is turning out men fitted in every way for public service. It is for this reason the administration looks with such favor on the campaign now being undertaken by the institution to transform itself into a national school for graduate study.

So close is the association between the government and the George Washington university that many experiments and tests made in the laboratories of the latter have resulted in discoveries of undoubted value to the nation. That this co-operation is appreciated is proved by the hearty letters endorsing the nationalization movement received from President Roosevelt and other public men.

GRAND JURY

WILL INVESTIGATE CHARGES AGAINST RIVER MAN.

Was Arrested for Falsely Soliciting Funds to Bury Don Billings—Other Court Trials.

Patty Scoffner, a steamboat man, was held to the grand jury by Police Judge D. A. Cross this morning for obtaining money by false pretenses. He is alleged to have secured money from Henry Lehnhardy representing to him that he was collecting funds with which to bury Don Billings, the steamboat mate who died of heart failure Sunday morning. The body of the mate was shipped to Covington, Tenn., yesterday and no subscription among friends was necessary to bury him.

Other cases: Illinois Central Railroad company, breach of ordinance, continued; James Showers and Noble Boatwright, breach of the peace, $20 and costs each and Bud Elrod dismissed. Jack Tarr, Stick McCormick and Ed Parris, drunk and disorderly, $20 and costs each; Joe Johnson and Will Beard, colored, breach of the peace, $10 and costs each; Houston Williams, colored, petit larceny, continued.

IN HURRY SHOOT WRONG MAN.

Boone Hobbit Mistakes Bruce Thompson for Brother and Fires.

Lincoln, Ill., Sept. 19.—Using a shotgun and firing at close range, Boone Hobbit last night shot and fatally injured Bruce Thompson. The shooting occurred in a saloon which at the time was filled with customers. The shot was intended for Thompson's brother, who, when he saw Hobbit enter the place, hid behind the bar. It is supposed that Hobbit in his excitement supposed he was shooting the brother. Hobbit escaped and the sheriff and police are searching for him.

NEGRO ENTERS RESIDENCE OF GEORGE C. DIUGUID.

A negro entered the residence of Attorney G. C. Diuguid, at Twenty-third and Broadway, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, badly frightening Mrs. Diuguid and her daughter, who is ill. The negro entered from the rear and was seen by the young lady from her bed. He stood by the wardrobe in an adjoining room and was seen through a mirror. The young lady informed her mother who got to the rear of the house to intercept him. The negro claimed he came in on porch to get out of the rain, but did not explain his entrance into the room. Before Detective T. J. Moore arrived he had disappeared.

DISMISSED WITH REPRIMAND

Boys Charged With Rubbing Pepper in Playmate's Eyes.

Lester Orr, Nello Mitchell and Joe Ashoff, three juveniles, who were held over this morning in police court to Juvenile Judge R. T. Lightfoot for rubbing red pepper into the eyes of 10-year-old Oscar Mills last week, presented before Judge Lightfoot this morning and dismissed.

The Mitchell boy proved that he was a mere looker-on, and took no part in the act. The Ashoff and Orr boys claimed that they rubbed the pepper in the Mills boy's mouth and accidentally got it into his eyes. After a severe reprimand, Judge Lightfoot dismissed the latter two.

Sight of an Auto Kills Coyote.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 10.—A few days ago a draft horse owned by Deputy Sheriff R. A. Proctor fell dead when it saw an automobile for the first time, and later a coyote dropped dead at sight of a large touring car in the mountains near Hecla, west of Cheyenne. The coyote was running along the road, and the automobile, driven by W. E. Dineen, of Cheyenne, came suddenly upon the animal. It gave one frightened look at the car and fell dead in its tracks. It is believed that this is the first instance where a wild animal has been scared to death by an automobile.

To Settle Coulter Estate.

Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Hester D. Coulter, administratrix for the late Gus Coulter, has filed a suit in circuit court asking for a division of the Coulter estate and that a guardian be appointed for her infant children.

NIGHT RIDERS

AGAIN BUSY IN SOME SECTIONS OF CHRISTIAN COUNTY.

Fire Into Homes but Spare Crops on Condition That Farmers Sign Agreement at Once.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 10.—Night riders got busy in the northern part of this county early Sunday morning, and news of their operations has just reached here. About 1:30 o'clock 160 men rode to the home of W. J. Ladd, and calling him to the door demanded that he follow them to the barn. He asked them to wait until he could put on his shoes, and they agreed to do so, but when he turned to go into the house they opened fire and about 100 shots were fired, most of them being stopped by the logs of which the house was built. Several of them, however, found their way into the rooms where his wife and several children were sleeping.

When Ladd joined the riders again they took him down to the barn and told him they had at first decided to destroy his tobacco but that if he would come into Hopkinsville and sign a contract this morning not to sell to the trust, they would let him go. He agreed and the men went on to the homes of J. M. Crow and Oscar Smiley, where they called them out and warned them also to come in and sign today.

They were further instructed to see that Joe Clark and John Rogers, another wonder of science.

Another Wonder of Science.

Biology Has Proved That Dandruff Is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the roots of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff the hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. W. B. McPherson, Special Agent.

also farmers in the same neighborhood, and the latter a magistrate, signed an agreement.

Ladd, Crow and Smiley came into town this morning and signed, bringing the first news of the attack.

CONDUCTORS MUST STOP SOILING GIRLS' WAISTS

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 10.—Three complaints to the general offices of the Wisconsin Traction, Heat, Light and Power company, to the effect that conductors on interurban cars had soiled white shirt waists in assisting women to and from cars, has resulted in a general order from the managing office of the concern that conductors shall assist only very old women and children. Employees assert that the shirt waist story is a hoax, while others say that employees, by squeezing the arms of pretty girls, caused the order to be issued.

CANNON AND HEMENWAY SUFFER FIRE LOSS.

Lightning Strikes Barn on Farm Owned Jointly by Statesmen.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 10.—During the electrical storm that passed over southern Indiana this afternoon lightning struck the barn on the farm of Spencer county owned jointly by United States Senator James A. Hemenway and Speaker of the House of Representatives Joseph G. Cannon. It was practically destroyed, the loss being $3,000. Cannon and Hemenway own one of the finest farms in southern Indiana.

In the penitentiary for killing his father, a few weeks ago at Maceo. McDaniel was drunk when he committed the deed. It was brought out that the father had taught the boy to drink liquor and had often been intoxicated with him. This fact seemed to have weight with the jury. The evidence was strong against McDaniel, and there was much surprise that the sentence was not longer.

GREAT CROWDS HEAR WILLSON.

No better indication of the intense interest that is being taken in Augustus E. Willson's campaign for honest government in Kentucky is than the huge crowds that have thus far attended the simple, neigh-borly, heart-to-heart talks which he has made since the opening of the campaign, and the general character of the gatherings, says the Louisville Herald.

These assemblages have not been made up of mere curiosity seekers,

but of citizens who are awakened to the peril of their state in the hands of the political ring at Frankfort,

which controls absolutely the present administration. They usually brought their wives and families, sometimes journeying many weary miles over mountain roads to listen to the story of good government and the promises of better times and better things for the people of Kentucky as told by Mr. Willson.

The audiences have been far different in temperament from those usually found at political meetings, in that they have been characterized chiefly by the earnest and thoughtful consideration and attention accorded the speaker, and his words evidencing almost unmistakably that a remarkable crisis is about to be crowned in the political history of the state.

At Harlan Friday no fewer than 5,000 people listened to the "word" as preached by the Republican leader. Over the rough and stony roads of the Cumberland mountains they came on horseback from the farthest recesses of Harlan county, all enthusiastic and all imbued with that fervor which only public issues of great moment can infuse into the sturdy mountain folk of Eastern Kentucky. After they had listened with most marked and thoughtful interest to Mr. Willson's doctrine of good government, they started on their homeward journey to study and reflect in their homes and at their hearthstones over the great truths which it is believed will result in the biggest Republican majority from Kentucky's mountain districts on election day that the state ever has known.

After printing 134 issues the Fulton Evening Record has suspended publication. This again leaves the Daily Leader with a clear field.

A Seattle girl has traveled 3,000 miles to marry a preacher. He ought to be good when she gets him.

The latest acquisition to the ranks of organized labor is the Cripples' union of France which is organized to protect the really deserving cripples from fake claimants for public charity.

The Knoxville, Tenn., Sentinel says the trend among Tennessee Republicans on the presidential race is for Roosevelt first, Taft second with some Republicans in favor of Hughes.

We don't know what is the motive that prompts the threatened move to oust the mayor, but if the attorneys for Boyle think that they could save their client by having Mayor Yeiser deposed they have shot far from the mark as the courts, when appealed to, have ruled that the acts of an official removed under similar circumstances are legal. The case at Louisville is the latest instance. And, too, by such proceedings Boyle's case has been prejudged as public opinion is becoming prejudiced.

FIRE DRIVES MEN OUT OF NEWSPAPER SHOP.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 10.—Fire, which was discovered at 1:30 o'clock this morning in the four story plant of the Observer company, is not under control at 2:30 a. m. and threatened the destruction of the entire building, including the linotype machines, Hoe press and complete outfit. Editors and printers sending forms to press for the early edition were compelled to flee from the building, saving only their personal effects. The loss cannot be estimated at this hour, but the plant is fully insured. The fire originated in the store room on the third floor. At 2:40 o'clock the fire was under control. George Wilson, a deaf mute led of 15, who was sleeping in the store room, is missing.

BURIED ALIVE.

Angry Employer Buries Typewriter Alive.

Greenville, S. C., Sept. 9.—(Special to The Sun)—Beneath boxes, books, papers and all kinds of rubbish C. H. Wilkins' typewriter was found buried alive in a back room of his office today. The discovery was made at about 3:30 this evening by Dr. Felix H. Sisk.

The unfortunate victim was given immediate attention by Dr. Sisk and has now entirely recovered.

Do not bury your typewriter because it is apparently dead for it may only be in a trance, but see Dr. Sisk, he makes a specialty of raising the dead and guarantees to put as much life in them as ever. At the Craig Hotel this week only.

MINISTERS FIGHT; ONE KILLED.

Quarrel Over a Hog Leads to Fatality in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 10.—In a quarrel over a hog Rev. John Grant, a Methodist minister of Galloway, Ark., yesterday shot and killed Rev. Martin Glenn, a Baptist minister. After the shooting Grant ordered a man employed by Rev. Mr. Glenn to get a horse for him, which he mounted and rode away. About noon Mr. Grant went back to the Glenn place with his shotgun, saying he had heard that Mr. Glenn was not dead, and that he had come back to "fix him sure."

FAST HORSES FOR MATINEE RACES

Will be Greatest String Ever Brought to Paducah.

Harness as Well as Running Horses Entered—New Entries Are Received Every Day.

BOX SALE FRIDAY NIGHT.

Mr. C. H. Harris left today for Kankakee, Ill., to secure some entries for the race meet of the Matinee club September 24-28. Entries have already been received from horses with records ten seconds faster than the local track and some great sport is anticipated by the promoters. Prallatt, 2:08 1-4; Don Elmo, 2:05 1-4; Eleanor, 2:07 1-4; and Byrl Wilkes, 2:05 1-4 have entered for the free-for-all pace, and Mr. Harris will endeavor to secure other entries for that event.

The indications are that the greatest string of horses ever brought to Paducah will be here, harness as well as running horses, and every day brings new entries to the already large lists.

Work on the track is being pushed rapidly and it will be put in fine shape. It will not require very much work as the track is now a splendid one.

Boxes for Horse Show.

The sale of boxes for the Horse Show will be held at the Palmer on the evening of the 17th. Already the secretary has had demands for two-thirds of the boxes, but as has been the custom heretofore, all boxes will be offered first at auction and the remaining ones sold at private sale. The boxes will seat four and six people and as they are well located they are very desirable.

Ball for Friday Night.

The entertainment committee of the Horse Show association has announced a ball for Friday night, September 27, of the meet week, and invitations will be extended to the public in general to attend. Mr. John W. Keller is chairman of the committee and applications for invitations should be made to him.

The committee has decided to appoint sponsors from all of the neighboring towns, as was done on the occasion of the other two shows. The invitations have been ordered and will be ready in a few days, and the committee suggest that any one who has friends in the surrounding towns to whom they would like to send one of the invitations, that if they will send the names in to Mr. Keller a sponsors' invitation will be mailed them.

The hall will be an elaborate affair. It will be given at the park pavilion, which will be handsomely decorated in the horse show colors and will be one of the events of the meet.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT AUTO RACES

One Dead and Two Badly Hurt.

President Reinertsen, of the Repair Association, Meets Death in Smashing.

POLICE CONDEMN ARRANGEMENT

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—Walter Christie, president of the Christie Iron Works, manufacturer of the Christie automobile, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon; Rex Reinertsen, president of the Automobile Repair Association, was killed and the latter's machinist, Claire Daskin, was also seriously hurt in the national circuit automobile races at Bruno's Island.

Mr. Christie is in St. John's hospital, Allegheny, and it is said by the surgeons and his manager, Fred H. Bayley, he will recover, although he may be permanently crippled. His left wrist is broken, his right eye cut by the goggles, so he may lose its sight, and his back wrenched and bruised. His wife is seriously ill in their home in River Edge, N. J., and every effort is being made to keep the news from her.

It was the first day of the events under the American Automobile Association.

The first of the accidents happened late in afternoon, in the 50-mile endurance race for touring cars, fully equipped, for a purse of $150. There were twelve starters and Reinertsen, in a Haynes car, with his machinist, Daskin, accompanying him, was rounding the first turn of the eighth lap on the mile track.

Reinertsen was in the rear, all of the other cars having passed him. Just beyond the grand stand the left front wheel tire came off. His machine bounded into the air, turned completely around and over. Daskin was thrown fifty feet from the wreckage, but Reinertsen, clamping the steering gear, was caught under the car. Unmindful that one man lay dead and another seriously injured, the eleven others continued until ten more laps of the race had been run. Then Mayor Charles Kirschler, who was in the grand stand, hurried to the side of Congressman James Francis Burke, the referee, and demanded that the racing stop until the extent of the two men's injuries were ascertained.

Although his skull was fractured and almost every bone in his body was broken, Reinertsen was alive when picked up. Both he and Daskin were hurried to the St. John's hospital, but Reinertsen died soon after he reached there. He was 35 years old and prominent in business circles in this city.

Today Superintendent of Police Glenn severely criticised the management of the races for the poor arrangements, and informed them that if the races were to continue tomorrow an emergency hospital would have to be established.

$100 REWARD FOR WRITER OF LETTER.

Tobacco Folk Want to Know Who Put Anonymous Letter in Rural Delivery Box.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 10.—Thomas T. Barret, general manager for the Stemming District Tobacco association, by authority of the executive committee, offers a reward of $100 for the identification and conviction of the person who is the author of the anonymous letter signed "Night Riders," which is alleged to have been found in the R. F. D. mailbox of Sam Hopkins, near Smith's Mills, this county. Detectives are at work on the case and developments are expected in the next day or two.

His Library.

Winthrop E. Stone, president of Purdue University, in an address on "Lafayette," said of ignorance:

"Ignorance makes all it touches ridiculous. Nothing, not even culture, is immune to its attacks. Did you ever hear of the ignorant millionaire's library?"

"Well, there was a millionaire, a cattle man, who led a visitor into a great room lined with thousands of volumes.

"See them books?" he said.

"Yes," said the visitor.

"They're all bound in calf, ain't they?"

"Yes," the visitor agreed; "they seem to have a uniform calf binding."

"The millionaire chuckled proudly.

"Well, sir," he said, "I killed all them calves myself."—Washington Post.

The faster a man lives the easier it seems to be for trouble to catch up with him.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

APPOINTED TO CONSIDER PRIVATE LIGHT PLANT.

Fiscal Court Meets in Special Session to Consider Machinery Company's Offer.

A proposition from Fairbanks-Morse & Co., of Louisville, to install apparatus for a light, heat and water plant in the county court house and jail for $3,000 was received by fiscal court in special session this morning and the matter of closing with the firm left to a committee with power to act. On the committee are Magistrates Thompson, Rawlinson, Bleich and Emery. The committee will negotiate immediately and ascertain the exact cost of erecting buildings necessary for the installation of the plant, and other improvements which will be necessary.

The Louisville firm agrees to install a 15 horse power gasoline engine sufficient to propel a dynamo for lights and pumping water. This with the plant will be all the firm proposes to furnish. A well will have to be sunk and a place provided for the dynamo and engine, and the cost of an engineer will have to be figured in the "extras."

"Unless we can figure that the county will in the long run save money, and that the plant will be practical," stated Magistrate C. W. Emery, "I do not think the committee will close the deal."

Mr. John Bleecker, manager of the traction company, and Mr. Muscoe Burnett, superintendent of the water company, addressed the board. They explained how the expense of light and water may be cut down by putting outside lights on a time switch meter and using lights only when necessary. Water rents may be curtailed by changing pipes in the jail for smaller ones, reducing the water consumption to one-half of what it is now.

NO MORE IMITATION ICE CREAM

Pure Food Bureau of State to Get After the Dealers in the Cooling Concoction.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10.—It is announced that the pure food bureau of the state agricultural department is preparing to enforce the provisions of the law in reference to the sale of ice cream. Hereafter skimmed milk or gelatin with aniline dyes cannot masquerade as ice cream without the danger of the prosecution of the dealer. If manufacturers and dealers desire to sell ice cream which is adulterated they must label the article, showing the ingredients of the mixture, and must not call it or sell it as ice cream but is a substitute for, or imitation of, ice cream. In the case where gelatin is used the department will consent to the use of the term "gelatinized ice cream."

This is not the result of a new law. It is the extension of the enforcement of the pure food law which was passed in 1902. In the case of the national pure food law the requirement is that ice cream shall contain at least 14 per cent of fats. There is no limitation in the law in this state.

Just now the bureau which is under the direction of F. M. Greene, of this city, is busy in prosecution of dealers who will fully sell a composition of cotton seed oil and beef fat for lard. The pure article is made from the fat of the hog, but until the investigation made by the agents of the state agricultural department it was impossible to buy lard, the cheaper substitute being given when lard was asked for. Now it is possible to get hard, the pure article, or dealers will say they have a substitute for lard.

Officials of the agricultural department say they are annoyed by circulars sent out by manufacturers of food products to dealers saying that as the national food law is complied with there is no need of inspection by state employees.

SOUND LOGIC.

August and September are two months when one has to be very careful about every condition that makes for good, or bad health. The system is usually beginning to feel the strain of the hot summer months and the different organs need but very little to throw them into complete disorder and result in probably a fatal illness.

Good health is assured however if you heed nature's gentle warnings, and are in any measure discreet.

The usual summer disorders—malaria, general worn-out, and run-down, conditions, biliousness, stomach and bowel disorders of all kinds, chronic or acute headaches yield readily, and very quickly, to the Osteopathic treatment, and have no attending ill effects. Usually you are as ill from the customary medical prescriptions as from the illness, but, in Osteopathy you experience none of this. Let me tell you at any time of the great success I am having with the treatment in Paducah. I shall refer you to people you know well for the evidence, and who will tell you just what it has done for them.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

Every one should take a tonic in the Spring; their systems require it. The blood has become thick and sluggish with the accumulations left in the system from the inactive, indoor life and from the heavy, rich foods of the Winter season. The blood, being in this unnatural and disordered condition, is unable to furnish the body with the increased amount of nourishment necessary for the more energetic life of Spring and Summer, and the system suffers from debility, weakness, nervousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, and many other unpleasant symptoms of a disordered blood circulation. When the system is in this run-down and disordered condition it is not safe to take unknown concoctions, sarsaparillas, compounds, etc., because they usually contain potash or some other equally strong and harmful mineral ingredient, which acts unfavorably and often dangerously on the depleted, weakened system at a time when it needs gentle and natural stimulation to throw off the impurities and recuperate its lost energy. S. S. S. is appropriately called Nature's Tonic. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks from the great storehouse of forest and field, selected for their purifying and health-restoring qualities, and as it does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form it is perfectly safe for young or old. S. S. S. acts directly on the blood, ridding it of all impurities and poisons, and restoring the lost properties of rich, nutritive strength so that it is able to supply the system with the healthful, invigorating energy needed to pass the trying season of the year. Its action is the most pleasant, prompt and satisfactory of all tonics, and those who feel the need of such a medicine will do well to commence the use of S. S. S. at once. S. S. S. restores lost energy, relieves the tired, worn-out feeling, helps the appetite, aids digestion, and adds tone and vigor to the system. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

WHAT'S THE ROW.

From New York Sun, Aug. 21, 1907.

No Luella,
That uprising
Sound of wailing
Agonizing,
Is not uttered
In a corner
By a plumeless
Johnny Horner.

It is not the Jeremiad
Of some poor
Unhappy Naid
By the sad sea
All deserted
By the men with Whom she flirted.

Nor is it the Lamentations
Of the Summer
Girl's relations
That the season
End should find her
Still without a
Man assigned her.

No, Luella,
That uprising,
Sound of wailing
Agonizing,
Is the protest
Fierce and burning
Of the kids to School returning.

PARENTS OF 23 CHILDREN SAY THEY'RE WORTH $600,000.

Abilene, Mo., Sept. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett Harris take the prize for the largest Roosevelt family in the state. They have just 23 children, and none of them is twin or triplet.

"I guess, according to the statisticians, I would have had over a half million dollars now, if I hadn't any children," remarked Harris, when the twenty-third was born the other day. "They say it takes $30,000 to educate and bring up a child nowadays, and I have brought my older ones up and educated them, too. Let's see, 23 at $30,000 apiece, that would make it somewhere around $600,000, wouldn't it? But I guess the kids are worth it."

Harris is an Englishman and a miner. He was in the English army and served for 19 years as a musician.

The Reason.

"Well! Well!" surprisedly commented the patent-churn man, as the village brass band tore rapidly past smashing out tintinnabulatory strains as they went. "those fellows are pretty nearly on a dead run! What makes them march so fast?"

"Trying to get away from the music, I guess," replied the landlord of the Pruntytown tavern, who was a pessimistic old groucher, anyhow.—October Smart Set.

DOYLE AND BENNETT

LAND POLICE PLUMS

Commissioners Fill Vacancies Last Night.

Firemen Elliott and McFadden Were Laid Off for Infraction of Department Rules.

NEW FIREMEN ARE ELECTED.

Policemen.

H. H. Doyle.

Charles Bennett.

Firemen.

Thomas Jeffords.

William Warren.

Bud Gibson.

Two policemen and three firemen were elected, and stringent orders issued regarding the use of intoxicants, to members of the police and fire departments by the board of fire and police commissioners last night. The meeting was brief, a caucus having been held before the regular meeting, and matters "cut and dried." In one matter Mayor D. A. Yeiser used his vote for the first time in many meetings.

All members of the board were present when the roll was called at 8 o'clock.

John McFadden, driver of the hose wagon at No. 1 station, was laid off eight days without pay for breach of rules. He has already served his suspension.

Charges against Patrolman Rogers, for alleged unbecoming conduct, lodged by Lizzie Roberts, were dismissed, no one appearing against him.

The resignation of Patrolman Jack Sanders was received and filed.

A petition from the Modern Woodmen of America asking permission for the fire department to participate in a big parade on the 12th when the interstate meeting of that order is held, was filed and permission refused.

John Evitts, night watchman at the Palmer Hotel, was refused police powers. Commissioners thought police headquarters are near enough to secure an officer if one is needed.

Police powers were granted R. E. Vance, night watchman at the local Illinois Central shops. Mayor Yeiser cast the deciding vote in this matter.

Election of Firemen.

Election of men to fill the vacancies in the fire department caused by the resignation of Matt Hall, Henry Rhue and John Reeves, resulted as follows: Thos. Jeffords, Wm. Warren and Bud Gibson. All three are now serving as extra men. They were assigned as follows: Jeffords and Warren at No. 1 and Gibson at No. 2 station.

Six names were placed in nomination for police jobs. They follow: John Bryant, H. H. Doyle, Pete Elch, Charles Bennett, John Hughes and James Flournoy. After much voting Doyle and Bennett were elected.

Doyle has been employed at the J. W. Little and Fins Lack plants, and is an experienced officer. Bennett has been night clerk at the New Richmond House, and both promise to make excellent men having the build of a patrolman.

Chief Woods was instructed to require Engineer Hugh Edwards at No. 2 station, to stand night watch the same as regular firemen, also to have some stationery learn running the engine for emergencies, such as illness of the regular engineer.

Chief of Fire Department James Wood reported that he had suspended Assistant Chief Jake Elliott ten days for a breach of rules.

On motion of Commissioner Gilbert a rule regarding policemen and firemen drinking was adopted. It reads that any patrolman or fireman caught inside a saloon drinking while on duty, shall be instantly and permanently removed. In event they become intoxicated while off duty, they shall be permanently removed. On motion the board adjourned.

Union Rescue Mission.

Report for July and August, 1907, as follows: Preached 50 sermons on the streets, in the jail and poor farm and Mission hall, besides 5 funerals. Visited and ministered in 22 homes, distributed 204 useful articles of clothing, besides matting and bed clothing, 15 baskets of provisions, 500 religious papers and bibles and testaments and 9 good books and a number of good periodicals. Lodgings 35, meals given away 95, outfit 125 children and 25 adults. Got employment for 5 women. We have two bright boys 6 and 8 years old to get homes for in good families. We kindly ask you to help us with money, provisions, clothing and household goods of any kind to continue giving relief to those in need. Respectfully submitted,

KING'S ATTENTIONS TO KENTUCKY WIFE.

Had Nothing to Do With Divorce Proceedings—Husband Proud of Edward's Admiration of Mrs. Brown.

Maysville, Ky., Sept. 10.—Gauger Lou Brown, of the internal revenue service, whose petition for divorce has attracted wide attention because of the prominence of the parties in this state, and the fact that King Edward, of England, is said to have figured in the case, was seen here today by a reporter, and he talked frankly about the affair, though expressing regret that it had been given such wide publicity.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Brown was a prominent member of society in Lexington, Ky. His father for years was connected with the L. & N. railroad and was well known. Social engagements took Mr. Brown to Lexington, Ky., where he met Miss Johnson, the beautiful daughter of Claude M. Johnson. He won her hand and shortly thereafter the parents of the bride moved to London, England. Mr. and Mrs. Brown went along, but after three years' residence abroad Mr. Brown returned alone. Soon thereafter divorce proceedings were instituted by Mr. Brown, and the case has lain dormant for a long time. For the sake of his child, now 11 years old, Mr. Brown has kept the matter quiet.

Mr. Brown's account of the King Edward episode is as follows:

The manager of the Criterion theater in London was a personal friend of Mr. Brown, and when he learned that King Edward would attend an invitation was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and they accepted. A throng of elegantly dressed women greeted the king, and as he viewed the audience from the royal box he was evidently struck by the beauty of Mrs. Brown and leveled his glasses at her repeatedly. Mrs. Brown did not notice the king's glances, but Mr. Brown did, and was proud of the attention shown her. He twitted his wife about the incident, but she only laughed and the subject was dismissed. King Edward did not request an introduction to Mrs. Brown, and there was no outburst of jealous rage on the part of Mr. Brown.

The divorce proceedings instituted by Mr. Brown will be pressed, and no offer of reconciliation will be entertained. However, he has no desire to pose as a "humble Kentuckian" leading the simple life in the rural districts while Mrs. Brown follows after the strenuous in London.

PRESIDENT BUSY ON HIS SPEECHES

Waterways Improvements the Subject of Much Study.

Senator McCreary Says Sending of Fleet to the Pacific is Insurance of Peace.

INTERESTING WASHINGTON NEW

Washington, Sept. 10.—Although he is supposed to be resting, President Roosevelt perhaps is the busiest member of his administration at the present time. He is hard at work at Sagamore Hill on the half dozen speeches he is to make on his tour of the middle west and south during the week from September 30 to October 6. He is to deliver the first address at the unveiling of the McKinley monument at Canton, O. In Keokuk, Ia., he will speak the following day, when he will begin his trip down the Mississippi river to Memphis, where he will attend the deep waterway convention and deliver an important address on the subject of waterway improvement. The president is deeply interested in this problem, and is one of the most cordial endorsers of the work of the national rivers and harbors congress, which is urging on the federal government that not less than $50,000,000 a year be expended in prosecuting such improvements. On his trip down the river he will make addresses at St. Louis and Cairo, and plans are under way to have him deliver still another speech in the south. There are indications that he will accede to this program.

Lieutenant-Governor Chanler, of New York, would make a candidate for the head of the Democratic ticket entirely acceptable to the south, according to Congressman John Wesley Gaines, of Tennessee. Mr. Gaines, who was the author of the Democratic handbook in the last congressional campaign, is at present in Washington. He undoubtedly will be a delegate to the next Democratic national convention, and his statements for that reason, are entitled to consideration.

The massing of the sea-power of the United States in Pacific waters will be the greatest insurance of the peace of the world, according to Senator James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, who is in Washington for a few days on urgent business matters. The senator is in the heartiest sympathy with the administration on the question of sending the fleet around the Horn, for he believes that the Pacific ocean undoubtedly will be the theater of the greatest events and the greatest commerce during the next half century. As the United States is vitally interested in this stretch of water, the Kentuckian believes that its naval representation should be greater than that of any other country. American prestige, he says, must be upheld in the orient, and the only sign of superiority acknowledged by the oriental mind is force. Senator McCreary has many friends here, having resided in the national capital eighteen years, during which time he has served both in the house and senate. He was defeated for re-election by Governor Beckham but has two more years of his present term to serve.

President Roosevelt this week granted a commutation of sentence in the case of Mrs. Adeline Rose, of Jackson county, Ky. Mrs. Rose was convicted in the United States court of making and selling whisky in violation of the law. Friends petitioned the department of justice, declaring that the female "moonshiner" was a widow with eight children, and that the children were in a deplorable condition as a result of their mother's imprisonment. On her promise that she would not engage again in the illicit manufacture and sale of whisky President Roosevelt has commuted the sentence of Mrs. Rose and she will be released September 17.

Undoubtedly through an accident, one of the rarest of United States coins turned up a few days ago in the treasury department. It represents the first attempt to strike a coin of the denomination of one cent, and it is thought to be the design of a blacksmith, Peter Getz, of Lancaster, Pa., a self-taught engraver who was employed in the Philadelphia mint. The coin is dated 1792, and is known as a "silver center cent" because, although it is much smaller than the ordinary cent, it is made of copper with a small blank of silver inserted in the center. On one side of the coin is a wreath enclosing the words "One Cent" with "1-100" below and the inscription "United States of America." The obverse side has the head of liberty and the date. MASTER MECHANIC FULMER RESIGNS

Goes to Denver to Take a Like
Position on D. & R. G.

Worked in Paducah Shop as a Machinist and Was Rapidly Promoted.

HE WAS A POPULAR OFFICIAL.

R. E. Fulmer, master mechanic of the local Illinois Central shops, has resigned to go to Denver, Col., to assume the position of master mechanic on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. He will leave as soon as a successor is appointed and sent here to relieve him. He has resided in Paducah for ten years, and has gradually risen to his present position.

Mr. Fulmer came here from Denver, being employed formerly on the D. & R. G. road as machinist. He went to work in Paducah Illinois Central shops as a machinist and his ability was soon recognized. He was made a gang foreman, and from that was steadily promoted until he was made general foreman of the shops. He was successful as general foreman and when R. J. Turnbull was transferred from Paducah to the Memphis shops, was promoted to master mechanic here. He had held the position for six months with credit.

Wednesday Mr. Fulmer filed his resignation with officials at Chicago, but no intimation of the act was received until this morning when formally announced. No successor here is tipped. Mr. Fulmer stated that he was expecting to be relieved at once, and presumed some one from Chicago would be sent here. No changes are expected in foremanship because of the change in the highest local mechanical office.

Jumping the track and plunging partly down an embankment, an engine blocked the approach to the Cairo bridge on the Illinois side this morning. The wrecking crew was brought into service and soon had the engine righted again. The engine was No. 642, a heavy Illinois Central freighter, and in the position she settled only a little force was required to tip her over and send her crashing to the bottom of the Ill.

Today local Illinois Central yardmen are grappling with another threatened blockade, and the Fulton local was unable to get out before a delay of several hours had been caused by accumulated freight cars in the south yards. One train crew arrived between 6 and 7 o'clock from the east and waited three-quarters of an hour before the south yards could be entered. It was necessary to back around the curve and head into the shop yards from the Louisville head, that the crew might "put up" and sleep. The crew had been out 26 hours, working a "turn around."

Most of the freight is pouring in from the south, and the yards are being taxed to their utmost. Every yard engine is being used to move freight, and crews are being worked hard. It is said that the district is short one or two crews, and more flagmen and switchmen are being daily added.

The fast east bound Illinois Central passenger train No. 104 ran in two sections this morning on account of extra travel, which with a special train running from Louisville to Nashville, kept dispatchers on the Paducah district of the road working overtime this morning, considering the many freight trains on sidings waiting for release orders.

Accidents.

James Ender, 25 years old, a negro laborer at the local Illinois Central shops, let a heavy timber fall on his right foot and badly mashed the member.

Sandy Bailey, 21 years old, colored, mashed his right hand under heavy timbers at the local Illinois Central shops.

Harry McLaughan, 23 years old, a helper in the local Illinois Central boiler shops, got his right hand mashed handling flues.

Miss Ruby Dunlap, clerk in the local Illinois Central yard office, has returned after a several weeks' vacation spent in the east.

Harry Kenney, an Illinois Central boilermaker, while working with iron yesterday afternoon, was struck in the right eye by a sliver of the metal he chipped off and may lose sight of that eye.

B. M. Moseley, delegate from the local Illinois Central machinist brotherhood, has gone to St. Louis to attend the national convention of machinists.

J. W. Qualls has accepted a position as stenographer to H. McCourt, assistant superintendent of the Illinois Central with jurisdiction of all southern lines. He is succeeded as stenographer to Trainmaster A. F. Page by Henry Arts, of the Powell-Rogers company.

TANSY'S BURIAL A REVOLUTION

Dissolute Vagabond, Once Lover of an English Singer, Finds His Friends in Death.

Bradford, Pa., Sept. 10.—A local vagabond, who died in most destitute circumstances, was buried here with as much honor as if he were a prosperous business man. Largely attended services were conducted and the body was borne to its final resting place by Postmaster H. H. North, R. B. Stone, a brother of ex-Congressman C. W. Stone; Attorney J. M. McClure and A. Simons, the latter a prominent merchant; George C. Fagan and ex-Mayor E. J. Boyle. Services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. R. Kleffer and the remains were consigned to the grave in Oak Hill cemetery.

The deceased was Fred Jones, locally known as "Tansy Jack," and he was a dissolute character who for a quarter of a century had been a homeless resident of Bradford. He was at times an industrious man, but preferred to spend his money for liquor rather than for the comforts of a home; sleeping where night found him, in a box or a barn or an open field.

But he became a noted character, and almost everybody in town was his friend in a way. Consequently, when he died suddenly from congestion of the lungs an immediate movement was made to prevent the interment of the body in potter's field. Many bouquets were sent to his bier and thousands of people viewed the remains at a local undertaker's establishment.

Jones, who came from England, is said to have remained single because of the early breaking of his engagement of marriage to a concert hall singer in Liverpool when the girl failed to appear at the time appointed for the marriage.

Changed Conditions.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Helen Aubrey.

Helen Aubrey, whose stage career has been marked with success and distinction in this season meeting with the most pronounced favor in a modernized version of "East Lynne." Of the play itself little can be said that is not known. It appeals to the masses as no other play of like character does, and in its field may be properly termed a classic. Miss Aubrey is a woman of rare accomplishments as an actress. Her beauty and manner have won for her a place in the theatrical world that is most enviable. She enjoys the distinction of being one of the most handsomely dressed women on the stage. Her wardrobe for this season's production represents an outlay of several thousand dollars and includes some imported creations that are marvels of the dressmaker's art. The attraction which appears at the Kentucky Friday, September 13, is a most worthy one and an excellent production can be looked for.

WILL REBUILD

CONTRACT LET FOR REPAIRING BURNED BUILDING.

Capt. White Gives Contractor Orders To Tear Down Enough of Walls To Make Building Safe.

Captain James N. White, of Nashville, who owns the building occupied by the Scott Hardware company and L. W. Henneberger & Co., which was a few weeks ago gutted by fire, returned home this morning.

"I will rebuild at once," he stated, "and the building will be occupied by the same firms. I leased the building for a five year period to the Scott Hardware company with an option for another five years lease. They have been in the building four years. How much of the walls will be torn down I can not say, but it will be a great deal, as much as the contractor thinks necessary. I desire to eliminate all dangers from weak walls."

By the time plans are completed for the improvement, Paducah will doubtless have a building of more and better, and the improvements will necessarily conform with his ideas.

The river continues to fall, the drop last night was only .3 it is true, but still it is a fall. River men say if the headwaters could get some of the rains we have just had a better stage could be looked for. The present stage of water is just three feet below that of a year ago.

The rainfall the past 24 hours was .7 of an inch.

Business at the wharf was quite lively this morning. The Clyde came in promptly at 8 o'clock with a good freight and passenger trip, lumber constituting the greater part of the freight, and dropped down to Joppa to discharge some freight for that point. She gets away up the river tomorrow.

The Dick Fowler is getting away promptly these days at 8 o'clock, and this morning several belated passengers were left at the wharf. The Dick had a good trip down. One item of freight was two cars of wheel rims for Flint, Mich., which will be transferred to the C. & E. I. at Joppa.

The Bob Dudley comes in tonight and leaves tomorrow for Nashville.

The J. B. Richardson took out a colored excursion last night, and is tied up at the foot of Jefferson street awaiting to go on the dry docks for repairs, as soon as the A. D. Allen comes off, which will be about Thursday.

The Margarette is due out of the Tennessee river today with a load of ties for the Ayer & Lord Tie company.

The Castalia came out of the Cumberland yesterday.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today.

The Cowling had good trips for and from Metropolis, as usual today.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue falling during the next two or three days. At Paducah and Cairo will continue falling slowly during the next three or four days.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, not much change during the next 36 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will fall slowly during the next 48 hours.

TOM JOHNSON HAS FIGHT OF HIS LIFE

Democrats Admit Cleveland
Mayorality Race Close.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft May Speak for Burton During Coming Campaign.

BRYAN TO HELP DEMOCRATS.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 10.—The contest between Mayor Tom L. Johnson and Congressman Theodore E. Burton as the Democratic and Republican nominees respectively, for mayor of Cleveland, promises to be a most exciting political event.

The endorsement of Mr. Burton's candidacy by President Roosevelt and Secretary of War Taft, it is said, may be followed by speeches here by both later on in the campaign. The president is to start from Cleveland on the coming trip of the inland waterways commission on its tour of investigation down the Mississippi river and Republican leaders believe that while here he may be induced to make a speech urging Burton's election.

The Democratic executive committee has called the city convention at which Mayor Johnson is to be named for September 19. Mayor Johnson has declined to discuss the matter since the announcement of Burton as a candidate, but it is said he has assurances that W. J. Bryan and other leading Democrats from various parts of the country will come here to make speeches in his behalf.

In selecting Mr. Burton to oppose Mayor Johnson the Democratic leaders admit that the Republicans have put forward their strongest man, and while they claim Johnson will win, they concede that it is anybody's race. It was Burton who defeated Johnson after the latter had served two terms in congress, having been previously elected as a Democrat in a district which was largely Republican. Since that campaign Mr. Burton has continued to represent the district in congress and has been returned biennially without opposition in his own party and either opposed by the Democrats or with only perfunctory opposition.

Mr. Burton's political managers assert that his probable candidacy for the seat of Senator Foraker is in no way affected by his race for mayor, whatever the result of the election in November may be, and that he will retain his seat in congress and the chairmanship of the rivers and harbors committee at least until after the mayoralty election.

PAINTERS' VICTORY

ALLIANCE OF BUILDERS FORCE CONTRACTORS TO SIGN.

Charles Warren Today Signed Contract Which Gives Painters $3.20 for 8 Hours Work.

Following closely on the victory of union carpenters, union painters are negotiating a victory, and after Saturday it will be complete. Today Charles Warren, the biggest paint contractor in the city, signed the new scale and Mr. Alex McConnell, another extensive contractor, signed up also.

When the building trades' alliance is organized Saturday night it will make it imperative for contractors to employ painters at the union scale of $3.20 for eight hours. In event of a refusal the entire trades unions forming the alliance will refuse to work on the job.

"Yes, I think all paint contractors will sign up," stated Mr. Warren this morning. "I signed and presume others will. Painters have fought hard and strong and won out."

Photographing By Invisible Light.

One of the marvels of modern research is the photographing of minute unseen objects by means of invisible light. The details shown by a microscope are increased not only by using higher magnifying power, but also by employing light of shorter wave-length, and nearly twenty years ago it was suggested that ultra-violet light should bring out in photographs many minute features that cannot be revealed by the much longer waves or ordinary light. The suggestion proved impracticable, on account of the difficulty of focusing invisible images, and because the glass lenses were almost completely opaque to ultra-violet light. The perfected ultra-violet microscope brought out by Kohler uses fused quartz for the properly corrected lenses and also for the prisms of the spectroscopic yielding the ultra-violet rays from the spark of cadmium, and a fluorescent screen over the eyepiece lights up under these rays, supplying a focusing fluter. With this apparatus very remarkable pictures have been obtained. A further improvement has now been made by W. T. Swingle and L. J. Briggs, of the United States department of agriculture, who obtain a more exact focus of just the details wanted by the visible image given by the cadmium spark, a pure blue light, then turn on the ultra-violet rays to give the impression on the sensitive plate. In this way minute details are pictured very distinctly.
